

Business Health Scorecard

Evaluate your business across operations, finance, people and growth.

By Ricky Recalcati

How to use this

Use this once per month.

Score each area from 1 to 5.

1 = weak

2 = inconsistent

3 = acceptable

4 = strong

5 = excellent

The goal is not to get perfect scores.

The goal is to identify where the business needs attention before problems become expensive.

1. Financial health

Revenue is predictable.

Score:

Gross margin is healthy.

Score:

Cash flow is under control.

Score:

Costs are reviewed regularly.

Score:

The business can survive a slow month.

Score:

FINANCIAL NOTES

What concerns me financially?

What is improving?

What needs immediate attention?

2. Customer health

Customers understand what we offer.

Score:

Customer complaints are low.

Score:

Repeat customers are increasing.

Score:

Customer feedback is collected.

Score:

The customer experience is consistent.

Score:

CUSTOMER NOTES

What are customers telling us?

What do they complain about repeatedly?

What do they appreciate most?

3. Operational health

Daily work is clearly defined.

Score:

Processes are documented.

Score:

Problems are visible early.

Score:

The business does not rely on one person to function.

Score:

Work is completed consistently.

Score:

OPERATIONS NOTES

Where does work get stuck?

What depends too much on memory?

What process needs to be documented or improved?

4. Team health

Roles are clear.

Score:

People know what good performance looks like.

Score:

Managers give regular feedback.

Score:

Training is consistent.

Score:

The team can operate without constant supervision.

Score:

TEAM NOTES

Who is performing well?

Who needs support?

Where is communication breaking down?

5. Leadership health

Priorities are clear.

Score:

Decisions are made deliberately.

Score:

Important problems are not avoided.

Score:

Leaders spend time improving the business, not only reacting to it.

Score:

There is a clear direction for the next 90 days.

Score:

LEADERSHIP NOTES

What decision am I avoiding?

Where am I being reactive?

What should I spend more time thinking about?

6. Growth health

The business has room to grow.

Score:

Growth would not break operations.

Score:

Systems can handle more volume.

Score:

Customer demand is understood.

Score:

The business has a clear next opportunity.

Score:

GROWTH NOTES

What is the next growth opportunity?

What would break if we grew quickly?

What needs to be fixed before scaling?

7. Score summary

Financial health:

Customer health:

Operational health:

Team health:

Leadership health:

Growth health:

Total score:

Maximum score: 30

8. Interpretation

25–30: Strong business

You have a healthy foundation. Focus on refinement and growth.

19–24: Stable but exposed

The business works, but several areas need attention before scaling.

13–18: Fragile

The business may be relying too heavily on people, effort or luck.

Below 13: Urgent attention required

Focus on stabilising the business before pursuing growth.

9. Top three priorities

Based on this scorecard, the three priorities for the next month are:

1.

2.

3.

10. One system to improve

The single system that would improve the business most is:

Why?

First action:

Owner:

Due date:

Final principle

A business does not become healthier by accident.

It improves when the right problems are made visible and acted on consistently.