

Restaurant Closing Checklist

A detailed closing checklist that helps hospitality teams leave the venue clean, secure, compliant and ready for the next shift.

By Ricky Recalcati

How to use this checklist

Use this checklist at the end of each service period. Closing is not just cleaning up. It is the handover to tomorrow.

The closing manager should complete each section, record exceptions, and sign off only when the venue is secure, cash has been checked, food is stored correctly, and the next shift has enough information to start well.
